HEARTH LAKE
FIRST NATION

Canadian Industrial Paramedics (CIP) and Heart Lake First Nation are the proud partners of Heart Lake Industrial Paramedics (HIP). Heart Lake Industrial Paramedics is a joint venture formed in 2008, and Heart Lake First Nation is 51% owner of this Aboriginal-owned company. HIP provides services in North Eastern Alberta and Western Saskatchewan – the traditional territory for Heart Lake First Nation.

This business brings together CIP's unparalleled experience, expertise, and reputation in emergency medical service, and Heart Lake's local business strength. CIP offers all of its high quality services - from a small project to a fully equipped medical clinic, as well as a full range of safety, fire, rescue teams, and training services through our JV. This Partnership provides Heart Lake First Nation with employment opportunities, training/career youth job shadowing, safety training, and social benefit, with a strong medical offering on site to reduce the load on the local healthcare system.

We encourage you to contact HIP for your medical service needs. We can help you with timely, cost competitive services; providing paramedic units, ambulance and remote access medic units which prove benefit to our community.
